Membership Plan VS. Individual Dental Insurance

The typical cost of individual dental insurance is around $400 per year, and much more when family members are added. The plan will have a deductible that needs to be met before benefits are paid, a benefit maximum per year, possibly have waiting periods before benefits are paid, and usually includes plan exclusions and limitations that add to your out of pocket expense. A popular limitation is composite (white) fillings not being covered, so when you have composite fillings done, you pay your deductible, your 20% co-pay, AND the difference between the composite and amalgam (silver) fees.

*With our membership plan, you pay your enrollment fee and set up your monthly fee on auto-pay. Your membership is effective immediately- no waiting periods, 100% coverage for preventative and diagnostic treatment, at-home whitening included, 25% off all other treatment- including orthodontics and cosmetic services. No hidden fees- just savings!
